

Fire sport

Published: 18.08.2020.

Fire sport is a sport discipline, that combines elements of athletics and firefighting. In the Latvian championship in fire sport, medals are won in four disciplines - 100m obstacle course (A race for individuals. Obstacles are specially designed to simulate firefighting reality), ascent to 4th floor of a training tower, 4x100m obstacle relay race and fire attack. The members of all adult teams are SFRS officials or employees who work as firefighters, inspectors, dispatchers, etc. on a daily basis. Competitions are also organized for young people.
